

2018 Heart and Hands Emporium Guidelines for Beneficiary Consideration

About Hearts and Hands Emporium:

In 2007, a group of women gathered with a desire to make a difference in the world around them. The idea of hosting vendors and inviting people to shop supported local business, and provided a wonderful way to raise funds for a non-profit. From the idea, the Hearts and Hands Emporium was established. The awareness of many great causes in Gainesville led them to focus on helping organizations that strive to enhance the lives of women and children. It is our expectation that the beneficiary will partner with us in publicity, fundraising (selling tickets), and being present at event. In the past ten years, the Emporium has gifted $181,000 to beneficiaries.

How Beneficiaries are Selected:

A Beneficiary Committee undertakes the collection and review of applications. A new application must be complete each year for consideration. Each organization is researched leading to the selection of 3-4 applicants. The chosen organizations are contacted and interviews/tours are scheduled. Once each potential beneficiary interview and/or site visit is complete, the committee gathers to finalize their decision. Upon the completion of the process, each applicant will be informed of the selected beneficiary. Organizations not selected are invited to apply again the following year.
